FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY, Nov. 14. weak, because of a recurrence of seeming liquidation in certain particular stocks. Other stocks were, however, if not specially strong, yet so firm as to attract decided notice, and the day's actual develop were really more favorable than otherwise. As was generally expected yesterday the Bank of England did not to-day advance its discount rate, but gratification over this circumstance in the banking community was exceeded by the pleasure over the relatively strong report of condition which the Bank presented. The Bank's holdings of gold coin and bullion increased over $15,000,000, and its proportion of reserves to liabilities is now 40.52 per cent., as compared with 35.20 per cent, last week. The meaning of this is that despite the immense drain upon the Bank of England made by the banks of our own country in the present emergency the world's leadits high discount rate, so increased its reserves as to not merely maintain but intrench its position. The weekly statement of the Bank of France was not of quite such favorable character, showing a loss in gold of nearly $10,000,000 and an increase in loans. The loss of gold was, of course, due to shipments to London, and that the French Bank is so placed as to be able to afford additional help to foreign countries is shown by the negotiations recently en-tered into by the officers of the institution with our bankers looking forward to the release of a large sum of money in a block for our benefit. These negotiations have been discontinued, owing to a requirement by the French bankers for Governme guarantees in the transaction, which bankers on this side naturally could not furnish. But the incident points to a period of approaching financial ease rather than one of increasing stringency.

Such indications were, indeed, to-day of various sorts. There was a slight falling off in the premiums on currency caused by a decided enlargement of offerings of money at quoted rates, by the easier feeling caused by the Bank of England's return and by the practical certainty that Saturday's bank statement here will exhibit a considerably larger surplus reserve. Those in a position here to speak authoritatively on the subject declared that there could be no question that much of the recent hoarding of money that has taken place had been not only by individuals but by small national and State banks. These institutions had in many cases, it was said, accumulated such an amount of cash as to bring their reserves up to 50 or 60 per cent., or several times the required legal minimum. Reprehensible as these practices are it seems impossible to remedy them by denunciation, but the comforting assurance is to be had that they will necessarily cease as confidence in the stability of the financial situation slowly increases. That confidence is, so far as this city concerned, unquestionably growing greater day by day. Money rates here to-day were a little higher because of the withdrawal of funds by the Treasury Department yesterday, but this withdrawal amounts to considerably less than 10 per cent. of the total Government deposits in local banks as was commonly but erroneously thought yesterday afternoon.

What specifically depressed the stock market to-day was unusually heavy selling of the St. Paul, Pennsylvania and United States Steel issues, counterbalancing fac-tors in the market being the relative strength of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific shares owing to the declaration somewhat in advance of the customary period of the full regular quarterly dividends upon them. The idea that universally obtained on the floor of the Stock Exchange was that pressure upon the market in the quarbanks is more acute just now than in any other section of the country. It is also admitted that contraction in the iron and steel business is swiftly going on. Another particularly weak stock to-day was Ameri-can Sugar Refining.

Bosron, Nov. 14.—The market for coppers opened weak and moderately active, with Copper Range and North Sutte the features. The former lost 2 points in the early trading and later declined another point. Closing prices were about the lowest of the day. No news as to the weakness, it being attributed to sympathy with that in New York. Railroads and industrials quiet and slightly lower.
